Building, a usually roofed and walled structure built for permanent use. Rudimentary buildings were initially constructed out of the purely functional need for a controlled environment to moderate the effects of climate. These first buildings were simple dwellings. Later, buildings were constructed for other functions, such as food storage and to serve as sites of ceremony. building | Definition & Facts | Britannica The Shard was complete in 2012. It has 72 habitable floors and an observation deck view London, which was open to the public in 2013. Moving to the interesting part of the story, the Shard may seem like the expressive original name of London's highest building, but truth is the name just happened by accident. 12
